

Name	Ai-ming Yang
Country	China
Organization	Peking Union Medical College Hospital
Current Position	Director of GI Department, Director of Digestive Endoscopy Training Center of Peking Union Medical College Hospital.

Educational Background

1984~1989	Fujian Medical University
1991~1994	Peking Union Medical College
1997	Hong Kong Chinese University for advanced ERCP.
2000	Hamburg University for therapeutic EUS
2006	Kobe University of Japan for ESD

Professional Experiences

Experienced resident, chief resident, attending, associate chief and chief physician of Department of Gastroenterology. He grasped ERCP, EUS, EUS-guided FNA, and endoscopic early diagnostic and therapeutic techniques on gastrointestinal cancer..

Professional Organizations

Department of Gastroenterology.
Digestive Endoscopy Center
Peking Union Medical College Hospital.

Main Scientific Publications

Carries out researches of applications of EUS on positioning and diagnosis for pancreatic endocrine tumor, EUS on staging of early colorectal cancer, EUS-guided FNA, and basic studies of effects of pancreatic juice and duodenal juice on diagnosis of pancreatic cancer. Meanwhile, as project director, he participates in 6 projects concerning diagnosis and treatment for pancreatic cancer and early gastric cancer founded by the 11th five-year supporting plan, MOH and MOE. As of now, he has published more than 50 papers on prominent domestic and overseas medical journals and participated in composing more than 20 monographs